Payroll Gain For County Is Mine Outlook

Big Canyon Expected To Resume Work At Early Date

Mining promises increasing payrolls for the county during the present year, according to Harry Bell, chairman of the chamber of commerce mining committee.

Although several properties, for one reason or another, are not operating at this time, Mr. Bell reports that mining men expect the current year to see more properties in operation than previously, and upon a larger scale.

"The Big Canyon mine is shut down temporarily owing to a cave-in which let the waters of a creek into the mine. The best information the committee can get is that the mine will be unwatered," Mr. Bell declared.

"A number of reports about the Big Canyon mine are being circulated, but these are without foundation and ought to be discouraged.

The Crystal mine is sinking its shaft 200 feet deeper and the Vandalia mine is putting in a new mill and preparing to go ahead," Mr. Bell said.

SNOW REMOVAL WILL BE ASKED BY COMMITTEE

An appointment with Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, and Charles Whittemore, division engineer, has been arranged by J. R. Johnson, chairman of the chamber of commerce road committee, for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at Mr. Kelly's office.

A delegation which will attend the meeting will seek assistance from the state in clearing snow from the Lincoln highway to the vicinity of Camp Sacramento, in the interest of winter sports.

Among those who will attend the meeting are George E. Faugstad, Arnold N. Weber, Adolph Martin, Floyd Poole, Albert Kyburz, A. H. Murray, of this county, and City Manager James Dean of Sacramento.

This is the all-inclusive committee of resort men, ski club members and chamber of commerce members directed to seek such a meeting by action of the chamber of commerce at its February meeting. The conference was arranged by State Senator A. L. Pierovich and Assemblyman Jesse Mayo, who also will attend.

PRESIDENT TO REVEAL AIMS IN BROADCAST

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Roosevelt will discuss the aims and purposes of his second New Deal broadcast speeches on March 4 and March 9, the White House revealed today.

The addresses, it was said, will constitute a "series in two parts" through which Mr. Roosevelt is expected to give a broad-scale outline of the objectives which he hopes to accomplish during his second term.

New Gold Strike In Alaska Is Reported

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP)—Prospectors, traveling afoot, by dog and by airplanes, were racing today toward the isolated Tundra country at the mouth of the Kuskokwim River in a stampede to stake out gold and platinum claims. The strike, reported to be the richest in years, was said to include a wide area east and south of Good News Bay, and the gold and platinum, both placer deposits, to be "poor men's workings."

"Caravan Tax" On Cars Held Illegal

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court today unanimously held invalid the California law imposing a $15 tax on automobiles towed or brought into the state under their own power for the purpose of sale within the state.

RANGERETTE SEES NEW YORK—Rangerette Maria Squires of Galveston, Texas, was a goodwill ambassador from the Lone Star State when she visited the offices of the New York World's Fair recently, and got a pre-view of the 1939 exposition. She invited fair officials to visit Texas "anytime you can come."

Hurts Fatal To H. Bailey

Inquest, Arrangements For Funeral Are Pending

Harlow Bailey, one of two men injured in an auto wreck Friday night near Nashville, died Sunday night at Placerville Sanatorium.

Mr. Bailey received a fracture of the skull, broken collar bone and other injuries and doctors held out slight hope for his recovery from the beginning.

His companion in the wreck, Jean La Rue, escaped with cuts and bruises.

Bailey had been to Placerville to get La Rue to return with him to the Fair-play district, where they both had work. In some manner the car was wrecked about 10:30 o'clock Friday night and about 11 o'clock, Theodore Rupley came upon the spot and brought the injured man to Placerville.

Bailey has relatives in Los Angeles who have been notified of his passing and Coroner A. J. Orelli announces that no plans for an inquest will be made until his relatives arrive.

NEW NRA DRAFT TO BE OFFERED PRES. ROOSEVELT

By C. L. SULZBERGER

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—An NRA substitute bill which would set a maximum 40-hour week for industry, secure the legality of collective bargaining, and create a three-man administrative board to regulate hours and wages has been prepared for President Roosevelt's approval, it was learned today from an unimpeachable source.

The measure is expected by those who have drafted it with White House assistance to be submitted to congress in about a month, along with Mr. Roosevelt's anticipated message on labor legislation.

"Whitey" Dellis Buys Barber Shop

Announcement was made Monday morning of the purchase of Monte's Barber Shop from Monte Ledbetter by B. J. "Whitey" Dellis.

Dellis has had the second chair in the shop for several years past and is an expert barber with a large following. He has employed Kenneth Brooks to assist him in the shop.

Ledbetter declares he "hasn't had a vacation in six years" and plans to take one.

"GOLD CLAUSE" DECLARED VOID

Supreme Court Ruling Of Two Years Ago Re-Affirmed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court in a five to four decision today packed down a new gold clause decision in which it held that contracts calling for the payment of gold bullion or its currency equivalent were outlawed by the New Deal emergency gold legislation.

The decision today was an extension of the court's verdict handed down in January, 1934, which originally upheld the New Deal gold legislation.

The outlasting of contracts calling for gold payments was upheld by the court in the gold decision of two years ago. The present case, involved a $1500 rental contract between the Holyoke Water Power Company of Holyoke, Mass., and the American Wrapping Paper Company. The decision was regarded as significant because of its possible effect on future control of the currency through legislation.

COUNTY ASKED TO BOOST TAX FOR HIGHWAYS

Members of the Board of Supervisors were visited by a delegation representing El Dorado County Grangers on Monday morning to ask that the county road tax for the ensuing year be increased to provide for improvement of the county roads.

At present the county road tax is 20 cents, an amount which the Grangers felt, is not sufficient to provide the money for repair of the damage done during the past winter.

The committee set no figure for the increase, leaving the matter to the supervisors to determine.

The committee which visited the board included Pomona Master Carl Visman, Robert Johnson, Fred and Charles Mayhew and Leland Esper. Mr. Esper was unable to attend the meeting.

The committee was named at the Pomona Grange meeting Saturday night.

Regular Council Meeting Tonight

The regular meeting of the city council will be held tonight at city hall. All members of the council except Councilman Fred N. Hosking will be present, it is indicated. Mr. and Mrs. Hosking are out of the city on vacation.

Dr. L. J. Anderson was at Sacramento Monday on business.

Hoop Carnival Monday Night; Two Contests

Cougar C Team Meets Sonorans; Legion Plays H. S.

County basketball fans are promised two thrilling games tonight at the high school gymnasium when a Mother Lode League CIF title is to be decided and the Legion five meets the high school for top honors in the county league.

The CIF game will be between the C team of the high school, winner in the Northern division of the Mother Lode League, and the C team of Sonora high school, winner in the Southern division of the league.

The Cougar five has played sensational basketball this season and if they continue their pace against Sonora, tonight's encounter will be packed with thrills.

The American Legion five, winners of the second half of the county league schedule, will meet the Cougars, winners in the first half of the race. The Legion quintet has won the county league championship for four years in a row and tonight the Cougars hope to upset them.

The Cougars, who played in the A division of the regular high school league, made a strong showing in that circuit and are expected to give the Legion quint plenty of trouble.

COPPER FIRMS MAY MERGE IN MARCH 12 VOTE

A merger of large copper interests is in the making and may be consummated on March 12, it was learned Monday. The matter is of interest locally only from the point of view that one of the concerns involved owns the Montezuma-Apex mine, a gold property.

The consolidation will be between the Utah-Apex Mining Company, which owns the local property, and the Utah-Delaware Mining Company, which is a subsidiary of the Anaconda Copper Company.

The combined unit will be known as the National Tunnel and Mines Company. The proposed consolidation is to be considered at a meeting of stockholders of the Utah-Apex at Portland, Maine, on March 12.

In connection with the above merger, engineers for the Anaconda Copper Company are engaged in a survey of the Montezuma-Apex mine and the property is closed pending completion of their investigation.

FORMER COUNTY RESIDENT LOSES TO HOLD-UP MAN

A. D. Vance, former Placerville resident, was one of the victims of a hold-up man at Sacramento over the weekend. A gunman who is suspected of being responsible for the robbery of three other locations, walked into the office of the Sacramento Bail Bond Company late Saturday afternoon, pointed a gun at Vance and at Harold Dickson, an employee, and escaped with $80.

Newtown Youth To Wed Oregon Girl

At a party given at the home of Walter Duane Snow at Newtown on last Thursday evening, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Jennie Vee Wilcox of Albany, Oregon, and Mr. Snow. The marriage will take place during the late spring.

Miss Wilcox is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Wilcox of Albany, Oregon. Mr. Snow is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman Snow of Newtown, an El Dorado County "boy" and a graduate of the county high school. About 35 friends of the couple attended the announcement party.

Justice of the Peace and Mrs. T. F. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reeg spent Sunday on an auto trip to Yuba City, returning by way of Woodland.

TESTER—F. B. Farik, noted Russian Soviet flier, who recently made a 20,000-mile flight over Soviet Arctic regions to test his plane in severe weather and to deliver mail to northern colonists. The plane was equipped with special heating apparatus to combat temperatures of 75 degrees below zero.

Missouri Flat Pioneer Taken

Solomon Fields Came To County 76 Years Ago

Solomon Fields, 86, a California pioneer of 1852 and for 76 years a resident of the Missouri Flat district, passed away on Saturday evening.

The funeral services are in the care of Memory Chapel and will be held from the chapel on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Harold Morehouse officiating.

Private burial services will be held at the graveside at Missouri Flat cemetery.

A native of Springfield, Illinois, Mr. Fields came to California with his parents when but two years of age. He was a lad of 10 years when the family settled in El Dorado County and Mr. Fields had spent his life in this county, engaging in general farming until his retirement.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. H. Fields of Missouri Flat; a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Orr of San Francisco; and Mrs. J. W. Beaty, Mrs. Wilson Bryan and two sons, Milo and Rex Fields, all of this county. Several grandchildren and nephew and nieces also survive.

FARM DEBT BODY MET ON SUNDAY AT SACRAMENTO

Executive committee of the California Farm Debt Adjustment committee met at Sacramento Sunday with State Senator John Phillips, chairman, to consider proposed legislation for the betterment of farm debt adjustment.

Several members of the senate and assembly met with the committee and gave their approval to the work.

Carl Visman, member of the committee, was in attendance from El Dorado County.

Concentrates Coked To Eliminate Clay

The Gold Company, Ltd., operator of the Veerkamp mine in Garden Valley, is milling 175 tons of ore daily, says a Sacramento paper. Both amalgamation and flotation processes are being used. Coking of concentrates is necessary to eliminate considerable clay.

The ore is being taken from the two-compartment 300-foot shaft from the 800-foot tunnel. Operators said they recently blocked out 100.00 tons of profitable ore.

Garden Valley Man Weds Grass Valleyan

Sacramento papers report the marriage at that city on Friday last of B. F. Snider of Garden Valley, and Mary Tasker of Grass Valley. We join with friends of the couple in good wishes.

George Middendorff, employed by the Russell J. Wilson automobile agency at Garden Valley, was treated Sunday by Dr. D. W. Babcock for an arm fracture, received in a fall at a skating rink near Rocklin.

Pear Growers Meet Tuesday On '37 Plans

2 Committee Members To Be Nominated At Gathering

El Dorado County fruit growers are looking forward to the meeting at the high school Tuesday night, at which members of the Bartlett and Winter Pear committees under the Tree Fruit Agreement for 1937 will be nominated.

The meeting will be held in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock and several speakers will be on the program. Among them will be S. W. Shear of the Giannini Foundation, speaking on the pear outlook; H. M. Cleaver, speaking on the pear control under the AAA; R. C. Sansel, reviewing the subsidy plan on winter pears for 1936; and R. W. Gray of the California Tree Fruit Agreement.

COLOMA CENTER MEETS MONDAY; HYATT, SPEAKER

The county Farm Centers' observance of "Conservation Week" opens tonight at the Coloma Center with Harry Hyatt of the Sacramento office of the Soil Conservation Service, speaking on "Conservation."

Mr. Hyatt will also have several reels of motion pictures to show on the subject.

He will be the speaker also on Wednesday night at the meeting of the Camino Center.

In addition, at each of these meetings, Farm Advisor Ivan W. Lilley will give a demonstration on landscaping, a subject which is expected to be of interest owing to the activity shown by gardeners throughout the county.

Summit Center will meet Thursday night and Pilot Hill Center on Friday night, with Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith as the "Conservation Week" speaker at each meeting.

STATE'S ROADS HIT SEVERELY DURING WINTER

SACRAMENTO (UP)—State Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly greeted returning members of California's 52nd legislature today with announcement that winter storms probably will damage California highways to the extent of $1,300,000.

Damage already checked exceeds $1,000,000, Kelly said, with prospects that it will exceed budgeted repair and maintenance appropriations by $900,000.

Marriages In State 60,197 During Year

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the state department of public health, surveyed a record-smashing list of 1936 marriage licenses today and contended that there-in lies proof that the depression practically is over. The figures showed that 60,197 blushing brides and self-conscious bridegrooms faced the altar, an all-time state record, last year.

12 Meet Death In England Blizzard

LONDON (UP)—Twelve persons were dead, numerous towns and villages were isolated and 30 towns in North Wales were without electricity today because of gales, snow and rain that swept Great Britain over the weekend.

Charles MasLaughlin was in town Monday from Youngs.

George Lyon was up from San Francisco over Sunday. George is taking treatments at the Marine Hospital for the arm injury he suffered while engaged in forest trail work about 13 months ago. His friends are all glad to know that the arm is responding to treatment.

Train For "Hard Knocks"

One wonders what adjustment the school systems will make, to meet the educational requirements of the future as prophesied the other day at St. Louis by Dr. Lorine Pruette, educator-psychologist.

Dr. Pruette told the Progressive Education Association that war threats, industrial unrest, political uncertainties and economic instability promise nothing but insecurity for the future and that children should be trained for insecurity.

Small wonder, sometimes, that the younger generation doesn't want to listen to well-intended counsel, when their elders give them a world which offers nothing but the vagaries of what they may grasp and hang onto through wars, strikes, revolutions and depressions.

Good Posture Acquired By Using Proper Exercises

By JACQUELINE HUNT

GOOD posture does more than make your clothes seem lovelier on you—it gives the impression of confidence, poise and radiant health to every one you meet. If your body is erect, your shoulders straight, chin out, face and carriage free from tension, one automatically feels that you could hold any job or meet any situation that arises.

MISS HUNT

Few women have a posture that is perfect, but it can be acquired. Even if you are a business girl and must spend hours sitting at your desk—a practice that tends to mold your flesh into flabby bulges and to put curves in your spine if you are not careful.

Whatever your posture defects, from a jutting vertebrae at the back of your neck to fallen arches, you can do magic things with the right exercises. Caved-in chests and stooped shoulders are also too frequent in offices. And if you will notice, you'll see that it is the girls who slump over their desks that tire more easily and lose more time from work on account of colds and other ailments.

This is because the cramped, bent forward position actually hinders you in your breathing and in the process of digestion. It makes you tense and strained for it is impossible to relax when internal organs are out of place.

Study yourself critically in a full-length mirror the next time you are in a dress shop and ask yourself how far your appearance would get you if you were going out after a new position. The answer may be discouraging, so you had better get to work at once on some exercises for limbering and strengthening the muscles of your abdomen and spine.

Some of the exercises for this purpose are old ones, but they are still good. Bending up and down night and morning is a help. Stand with your feet about 16 inches apart, knees stiff and arms stretched high over your head. Bend forward and touch your toes without bending the knees.

Deep breathing before an open window is also good. Do not throw back your shoulders, raise your chest and try to take a deep breath—you can't do it with such a rigid position. Flatten your back and draw in your stomach by contracting the pelvic muscles, then inhale slowly.

As the lungs fill they gradually force the diaphragm downward, lift the chest into position and push the shoulders back and down where they should be. Breathe deeply, inhaling and exhaling twenty times, several times during the day. Try it when you feel tense or have a headache and see how it refreshes you.

You know how to check up on your posture, don't you? Back up to the wall and try to touch it with every point of your spine. Shoulders should be pressed against the wall, the small of your back, your thighs, calves touching, your feet about six inches away. Now try to walk away from the wall keeping this position. After a while holding yourself in that way becomes automatic.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Putting the sports shot here and there:

Manager Mickey Cochrane's demand that the spring training of his Detroit Tigers be strictly a stag affair, with no wives or sweethearts of the players within a hundred miles of the camp site in Lakeland, Florida, has scattered the Tiger families as thoroughly as Longfellow's Arcadians. To determine where they will live while their husbands train, the Tigers' wives set the speedometers of their cars at "0" and then established residence at the first town passed after the reading passes "100".

Babe Didrickson does all her chipping around the greens with an ancient jigger which she vows is 64 years of age. And for putting she utilizes a 20-year-old club which she "borrowed" from this commentator, who had stolen it from professional Sammy Belfore.

Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett will be guilty of base ingratitude unless she sends Avery Brundage a pair of front row seats for the opening night of her Great Lakes Exposition show next summer. For it was brother Brundage that enabled her to get the publicity which led to signing of the $30,000 contract. Stu Martin, the sensational young second baseman whose mid-season illness probably cost the St. Louis Cardinals the pennant last year, has reported for training abundantly healthy. Only ten pounds under his best weight, he plans to gain it back on a diet of heavy cream.

Jim Farley can pick presidents, alright, but he has been having his trouble calling horses at Hialeah. After a couple of bad days he called in "Hummingbird" Smith, trainer of Calvalcade, for consultation. Head Coach Josh Cody is polling University of Florida alumni for an opinion of night football for the Gators. If the old grads like the idea (and Cody does) $10,000 worth of incandescence will be strung up. I have yet to talk to a National leaguer who doesn't believe Billy Herman, Cubs second baseman, is the best player in the circuit.

A stately Daytona Beach dowager, with a show-place home hidden deep in the palms, asked Frankie Frisch to allow her to give the St. Louis Cardinals a tea. And Frisch, dizzy with unbelief, accepted. Now he spends all his waking hours wondering what the "Gas House Gang" will do to the dear dowager's place. Not to mention what Pepper Martin will do when he gets his tea with lemon. "Pepper always acts up something dreadful when he doesn't get cream with his tea," Joe Medwick says.

The golfing gals are planning a rebellion against the winter circuit if the hotels continue to try and stick them with what they consider exorbitant rates. The gals have to make the grapefruit tour strictly on their own, and many skate on such thin financial ice that their budgets do not even include movies. It requires little better than a thousand dollars to swing a trip to the winter tournaments. And the only way a gal star can get it back is melt and sell the assorted sandwich trays and candlesticks that are the rewards of the winners.

BRONCHO BILL

On Bill's Trail

By Harry F. O'Neill

THE Book Mark

"Round the World on a Penny" Mrs. Anita Burnham of Chicago calls her entertaining book. She breezes in to talk about her travels "in costume"—a sun-helmet, the long black cape that fitted any member of the family in an emergency, a catch-all bag slung over her shoulder and a suitcase on wheels, a "roll your own" which has its advantages in the matter of tips.

On her first trip to Europe, Mrs. Burnham was accompanied by her husband and her four children, the oldest 14 and the baby nine months old.

"They stay put at nine months," Mrs. Burnham asserted, "and it was cheaper to take the baby than the canary or the dog. Nine dollars fare on the boat for the baby while a canary costs $10 and a dog $15."

They went third class because there was no fourth but they had a first class time. And if Mrs. Burnham meant to have a good time she would have it. She is a little roly-poly woman with the snappiest of brown eyes and with plenty of bounce and gusto. When she talks she flourishes her arms and hands to emphasize her remarks.

"We are the average American family, comfortably poor," she admitted, "but money is purely mental and the larger your family the sooner you should be on the wing. A kitchen apron was literally painted on me. I needed a change and I saw to it that I got it."

Saving that precious penny with some sacrifice, they rented their log cabin and were off. They saw all that the average tourist sees and more, and they had the average mishaps but what a grand time. They traveled at night to save hotel bills. It was not always restful but "morning did come." Dad who was always hungry had to be hustled out of the coffee shops at the last minute, and the children did not fall into the Grand Canal at Venice as their mother had feared.

Six years later they had saved enough money for the trip around the world, with strict economy, of course.

"You can wait until tomorrow to diet," Mrs. Burnham said slyly, looking at her own plump figure, "but not to economize."

They decided to travel third class on a Japanese liner, furnished their own food. On the liner, Mrs. Burnham was annoyed by a disagreeable smell. Investigating the first class cabins, she smelled it there also—at least it didn't cost any more. Round and about she pried until she tracked it to a barrel of pickled radishes.

In Japan she saw more babies than anywhere else—55 babies to every 1000 people while in the United States there are only 15 per thousand. They went housekeeping in Japan. The food problem was simple as it is a land of rice and there is always a sea of tea but lack of chairs and beds did not always make for comfort.

"Now Japanese housekeeping has its points," Mrs. Burnham conceded, "no clutter, no fuzz under the beds, but the sleeping pads are not exactly restful if you are used to a mattress. The fact is, we got up in the morning to rest."

On this trip each member of the family carried sketching material. The charming illustrations of "Around the World on a Penny" were done by the different members. Space forbids telling about their experiences in China, their stay at a Hindu hotel in Benares, their encounter with racketeering guides in Egypt and the wedding of the oldest daughter in Jerusalem. Read the book "Around the World on a Penny" (C-F $2.00) for jolly entertainment, for the neighborly feeling it creates toward all countries and for the incentive it will give you "to do something." "If you really want to travel," Mrs. Burnham said, "the hardest thing to do is to slam your front door."

If you are in San Francisco before March 22nd, see the exhibit of Landscape Architecture at the San Francisco Museum of Art. We could scarcely tear ourselves away from the miniature models of old gardens. The modern room promises assistance for any problem—if you are planning an estate, you will find invaluable ideas, if you are thinking of a country house in an orchard, there is a delightful model to offer you suggestions. Even the possibilities of a 25-foot lot are explored and the pent house garden receives its measure of attention.

One of the most interesting models was that of an auto trailer camp, a suggested development for San Francisco. If adopted, it would cover two city blocks at the terminal of the bay bridge. It contains a capacity for 300 trailers along with all modern facilities. Vines, shrubs and deciduous trees promise to transform it into a

HOW IT BEGAN By Paul F. Berdanier

A CURMUDGEON

MOST PICTURESQUE ORIGIN OF THIS TERM IS THE OLD ENGLISH "CORN MUDGEON"—THE NAME GIVEN A CORN MERCHANT WHO BECAME UNPOPULAR BECAUSE OF HOARDING GRAIN TO BOOST PRICES. HENCE OUR MODERN "CURMUDGEON," TO MEAN A CHURLISH, MISERLY PERSON.

KOWTOW

THE ANCIENT CHINESE PROSTRATED HIMSELF UPON THE GROUND WHEN SALUTING A SUPERIOR. FROM THE NAME OF THIS SALUTE, "KOW-TOW" (TO KNOCK THE HEAD ON THE GROUND), WE DERIVED "KOWTOW," TO MEAN THE ACT OF FAWNING UPON SOMEONE AS A GESTURE OF FLATTERY.

Middle-Age Appearance

When the bloom of youth has evaporated, the older woman may have other charms almost, if not quite, as attractive. She may have an appearance of dignity, ability, queenliness, humanness and, above all, "smartness." She should be especially thoughtful about her choice of hairdress, line of silhouette, fabric for clothing styles chosen and personal grooming.

Prettiness is not an ideal to copy—but simplicity and grace are two desirable. Skin, hair, teeth, nails require great care. Footwear is important. As to dresses, coats, hats and the rest, fussiness and over-ornamentation should be avoided. Don't wear that necklace because John gave it to you thirty years ago and you have always loved it.

Remember the ensemble idea when you buy hats, coats, shoes. Give thought to the proper color of hose for the season. Keep the clothes you have in the pink of condition and wear them, do not let them get shelf or hook worn and out of style.

The childhood of most middle-aged women demanded clothing economy and this has instilled into us the habit of saving our good things for some greater occasion. It is hard for us to realize that clothing today is abundant and inexpensive and we should put on that good dress today, not wait for a grand event, but wear it at home, on the street, and among our family and friends. Time slips along so rapidly. Let us dress up and look our best for thing of beauty. Let us hope that San Francisco adopts this suggestion.

We saw interested groups crowding around the clever show boxes. New and different garden ornaments also received attention. A sun dial of glass and mosaic caught our fancy and we would have liked to order "on the instant" a fish fountain with a blue and green tiled background that would suggest coolness on the most torrid day.

Our idea of an Earthly Paradise, a study in a garden, was not modeled. Edmund Gosse used to say that the words "A library in a garden" contained all the felicity of man. If you love both books and gardens, read the little known but so worth knowing "Dreamthorpe" by Alexander Smith.

the dear ones about us now.

And one final word, let us consult the experts and look "smart." Our family does not care a rap about our looking "sweet," which to them means mushy, old-fashioned and inefficient.

Oven Cookery

Many housewives hesitate to bake foods because they feel that it is extravagant to have so large a fire as the oven requires, yet oven cookery has many advantages.

Baked foods have a delicious flavor which it is impossible to get with boiling or frying. They are likely to be more thoroughly cooked and therefore more digestible. One may prepare dishes for the oven a long time in advance, and when once they are in the oven and the oven is set at the right temperature, she may go about her other business and forget them. One-dish meals may be baked and this saves dish-washing. Oven cookery is not expensive proposition, if man aged wisely.

On the day you plan for a baked dinner, estimate how long your slowest cooking food will require to bake, then prepare other foods to fit in the oven at the same time, filling the oven with various foods in turn.

If you are to have meat roast, make a batch of cookies while the oven is hot, or slip a cake in beside it, cook vegetables with the meat, escallop or bake potatoes, make baked beans, a pie, rice pudding, custard or baked apples. Keep the oven full from the time it is hot until you are through with it.

Silver

Sulphur fumes make silverware tarnish. To keep it shut up tight in some container, where sulphur laden fumes cannot reach it, will prevent it from tarnishing. A piece of camphor ice, put away with the silver, keeps it from tarnishing.

For the Bath Room

In the bathroom keep a small oil can in which is turpentine. This is useful in cleaning the bathtub, removing stains and scum. Drop a few drops on a cloth and rub the tub at times.

Bananas

The banana has become a year-round food on the tables of civilization. There is probably no more popular food, from early childhood to old age, than a ripe banana. And it is wholesome, too. It furnishes a quick source of energy and may be used as vegetable or fruit, as lunch or as dessert, or combined in infinite variations with numerous other foods. Only fifty years ago the first freighter bearing bananas docked at a Boston port. It was not supposed then that this soft and tender fruit could be successfully marketed at remote distances, nor that it would become so well liked by everybody.

The banana is much handled, from tree to table. Fortunately it is in its own sealed package, the skin. In Central and South American countries it is picked green, carried to the train, stored in the hold of a ship where it is kept at a certain favorable temperature, transported inland on cooled trains, stored in ripening rooms, and bought at your market "for a song."

Bananas should not be kept in the refrigerator, for that makes them turn black. They are ripe and at their best when yellow, flecked with brown. Banana pulp darkens soon after the skin is removed. This may be prevented by dipping it into pineapple, orange, lemon or grapefruit juice, or even by

Bananas may be served raw or cooked. The next time you make meat loaf, add three cups of sliced bananas to the recipe.

Too Easy

Parents, in their tender love for children, often make life too easy for them, and then wonder why the children do not appreciate this. The fact is, children usually object to being mollycoddled. They would rather be given a chance to earn their spending money than to have it always handed to them. They would be happier if they had to get ready for their own parties and company, take care of their own lives and have a feeling of freedom, like robins, like to try their wings.

Make it a bit easier for yourself, Mother! Loosen those apron strings which bind, like chains, that growing boy or girl. Let them develop sinew by straining and stretching their own mental and moral muscles. They will have to do this later, when out in the world, on their own, and they will be best fitted for it, if gradually and under your guidance, they have had some experience with it.

Brooms

On wash day soak your brooms for half an hour in a pail of hot suds. This not only cleans the broom straw, but it prevents it from becoming brittle and the broom will last much longer. Brooms should be hung when not in use, rather than being allowed to stand on the floor and rest their weight on the straw end, which tips them out of shape.

ROOSEVELT MAY "STUMP" NATION ON COURT PLAN

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration today prepared for a vigorous campaign the second week to rally support for the Supreme Court reorganization program. President Roosevelt is expected to take personal leadership of the drive.

Mr. Roosevelt already had scheduled one of his famous "fireside chats" the night before the senate judiciary committee opens hearing on the plan. There was a persistent but unconfirmed report that he was considering "stumping" the nation if necessary to win public support for it.

Intimates of the White House denied that the President would undertake such a spectacular move. Several senators, however, reported they had heard it discussed. A "stump" tour for the court plan would be comparable to President Wilson's campaign almost two decades ago in behalf of the League of Nations.

Congressmen asserted, meanwhile, they had traced the source of thousands of pink, blue and green protest slips against enlargement of the Supreme Court to Rev. Gerald B. Winrod of Wichita, Kansas.

Rep. John J. O'Connor, D., N. Y., said he was considering a possible congressional inquiry into the origin of the slips. He brought the matter to the attention of the White House.

"JUMPING DOTS" STYLE VOGUE IN EMPIRE FEATURE

"Jumping polka dots" are the latest in women's wear. But they won't do for the street. They're only good for a comedy picture. The "Jumping dots" were worked out for a comedy sequence in "Dangerous Number," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's hilarious farce of a young business man who marries a vaudeville actress, which plays Wednesday at the Empire Theater. Robert Young and Ann Sothern play the principal characters.

In a comedy scene Young and Reginald Owen, silk manufacturers, experiment with a bit of silk which when dipped in water suddenly gives up its spots. Polka dots were cut out and placed on the silk with a water soluble gum. When the piece was immersed in water the dots loosened and flew away.

Richard Thorpe directed the picture, based on Leona Dalrymple's magazine story, with screen play by Carey Wilson. It is the recital of countless quarrels, a marital mix-up precipitated by the California three-day marriage license law, and the tribulations of a husband who cannot understand his wife's vaudeville friends.

When Chairman Dan M. Bassi of Lotus, called the Board members to order Monday morning, Supervisors Hall of Placerville, Green of Diamond Springs, Heuser of Shingle, and Breedlove of Georgetown, were all present.

STOCKMEN GAIN THRU SAFEWAY LAMB CAMPAIGN

Farmers and ranchmen, feeding lambs for market were saved from heavy financial losses in January as a result of the mid-winter lamb sale sponsored by the National Association of Food Chains according to a report received here by J. S. Harper of Saway stores. The information was contained in a bulletin from P. O. Wilson, manager of the National Livestock Market Association, who expressed the gratification of all sheep growers over results obtained in disposing of the large seasonal surplus of feeder lambs. A tremendous increase in lamb consumption was shown by the preliminary reports from 37,000 food chain stores participating in the campaign, which continues through the month of February. Some companies reported increases in sales from 50 per cent to 300 per cent above normal.

Mr. Wilson in reporting on the present status of the national lamb sale said, "There is evidence of considerable improvement in consumer demand, and the advance in prices has prevented heavy losses on the part of feeders. This improvement in the lamb market has been in the face of increased receipts for major markets and abnormally large supplies following almost record lamb slaughter during December, thus indicated an important stronger-demand outlet on the part of consumers. This improved outlet is also in the face of unseasonable warm weather in the major consuming areas of the east.

"When one meat product is out of line with other meats, it is particularly important that the consumer have an opportunity to take advantage of relatively low prices. At the same time the producer will benefit by broader demand outlet and a more favorable market. While orderly production and marketing is desired on the part of the livestock industry, we are glad to know that many of these emergencies can be corrected by bringing them to the attention of the consumer. This close co-ordination between the producer of livestock and distributor is greatly appreciated."

J. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association, also was quoted in the bulletin as saying: "We are certainly gratified at the response that has been made in the lamb markets to the stimulation of the nationwide mid-winter lamb sale. The market prices have responded to an extent which, if continued, will probably mean some margin of profit to feed-lot operators instead of the heavy loss which was being incurred on shipments sold prior to the announcement of the sale."

The national association of food chains also reports that the mid-winter campaign has resulted in the selling of lamb where lamb hasn't sold before.

FILM WRITER'S DEATH TO DRAW COUNTY INQUIRY

RIVERSIDE (UP)—District Attorney Earl Redwine of Riverside County, today declared he was not satisfied with Mrs. Humphrey W. Pearson's account of her husband's death and was preparing for an intensive investigation of the screen writer's fatal shooting.

The district attorney indicated his dissatisfaction after Sheriff Earl Rayburn relayed to him Mrs. Pearson's story of the writer's death last Wednesday night at their Palm Springs bungalow.

"Mrs. Pearson had a lot of time and plenty of assistance in making up her story of the shooting," Redwine declared, "but it does not jibe with the story told by Alfred Lackman, their negro butler, at Saturday's inquest."

5 Killed, 2 Survive Australia Air Crash

SYDNEY, New South Wales (UP)—Five persons, including William Fountain, New York architect, were killed when the missing Brisbane-Sydney mail airplane crashed into the McPherson mountains on February 19, it was reported today. Searchers found two passengers alive. Wreckage of the airplane, last seen at Gladstone, on the Macleary River, about 3:30 p. m., on February 19, was discovered Sunday.

Complaint states the couple wed September 20, 1930, at Reno, and separated on February 14, last. They have two children whose custody the plaintiff seeks. The complaint names as co-defendants Theodore Rupley and Mrs. Clara Rupley, in that phase of the action looking to a division of community property.

FORMER KING TO DRAW INTEREST ON ROYAL FUNDS

LONDON, (Copyright, 1937, By the United Press)—A basis of settlement has been reached for the financial future of the Duke of Windsor, an authoritative source said today, but details remain to be worked out.

The basis for agreement was said to be:

A capital trust fund would be provided from the estate of King George V, most of it intended for Mrs. Simpson and any children of the marriage in event the Duke died. This sum would be administered by King George VI's financial advisers. The Duke and Mrs. Simpson, as his wife, would draw interest on the sum but not control the capital.
